SOUTHERNS, BEWARE!

BY WM. H. KING.

Southrons, beware! The glorious light is gleaming.

That ushered in our Freedom's natal day;

And the land our meteor flag is streaming

And flashing from its folds each crimson ray.

Ye saw erewhile the heroes of our banners,

Ye saw our myriads bayonets marching on;

Now from our hearts swell proudly the Hosanas

That war is ended and the victory won.

But still we hear Secession's traitorous num-mur.

We see the miasmatic vapors rise;

And this but makes our resolution firmer

To crush rebellion north Columbia's shores.

Millions of loyal men are mid you, toiling

True hearts, though dark and plain may be their face.

Dare ye around them chains of bondage coiling?

Again to drag them from their manhood's place?

FREEDOM FOR ALL, whatever be their station!

Right for all men, whatever be their race!

We are resolved, as God is our salvation,

To quell oppression and blot out its trace.

Southrons, beware! our dead are sweetly sleeping.

On many a field, by many a lonely stream;

And hearts are desolate, and eyes are weeping.

For each on whom earth's light no more can beam.

And thus we warn you by each bloodstained valley.

By widows' tears, by souls of heroes gone;

Millions of hearts need but the call to rally.

Millions of "JOHN BROWN" spirits are marching on!

By all your butcher pens and murderous prisons.

By Belle Isle tortures, and by Richmond hells.

By Pillow massacres, and Wier derisions.

By all who died "neath your satanic spells;

Tempt us no farther, lead the trace be broken

And once again ye hear our cannons roar!

Oh, tempt us not lest the fierce word be apken.

And desolation sweeps your traitorous shores.

Our souls are true; truly we call you broth-

WITH SOUTHERN REBELS!

All In Favor of the Following Amendment will Vote the Union Republican Ticket:

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, Two-thirds of both Houses concurring—That the following Article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, viz:

ART. 14, Sec. 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

SEC. 2. Representatives apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, excluding Indians not taxed; but whenever the right to vote at any election of electors of President and Vice-President, and for the United States Representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers, or the members of the Legislatures thereof, is denied to any male inhabitant of such State, being 21 years of age, and citizen of the United States, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens 21 years of age, in such State.

SEC. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President or Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States, or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or civil officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; but Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds in each House, remove such disability.

SEC. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States, authorized by law, including that incurred in payment of bounties and pensions for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned; and neither the United States, nor any State, shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Let every man who is opposed to section 1, vote the democratic ticket.

Let every man who is in favor of giving to a South Carolina voter twice and a half the political power that he enjoys in Michigan—36-000 votes equal to 90,000, vote the Johnsonian rebel ticket and down with section 2. When we have so far forgotten our manhood as to pay a premium on rebellion and grant superior privileges to rebels, then "shoot us down as the dog in the streets," for we want to live no longer.

Let every man who is in favor of bestowing political honors on Jeff Davis and his rebel crew; vote with the sham democracy, and down with section 3. Shall we be so craven as to do it?

Let every man who is in favor of paying the rebel debt, vote the copperhead ticket and trample on section 4. No provision in the constitution to the contrary, $1,000,000-000 can buy up any Congress, and thus (with a united southern vote) put the remaining $2,000,000,000 in the coffers of the Rothschilds and other English holders, and entail upon loyal generations unborn a grievous burden.

Republican Caucus.

A Caucus of Republicans will be held at the City Hall on Tuesday evening, October 2d, at half past 7 o'clock to elect fourteen (14) delegates to the County nominating Convention at Ann Arbor on Thursday, October 4th.
By Order of the Committee.

ORGANIZE.

There never was a deeper seated feeling—a stronger determination to succeed and save the country than now. The republican hosts are in earnest. They see the necessity of action. An undisciplined army, however numerous or in earnest, are in danger of defeat. Organize, organize in every school district. Canvass thoroughly. See to it that every voter is enlightened. Loan your papers—circulate the speeches. Bring your neighbors out to hear the Truth.

The New York Independent makes some good suggestions: "Vacation ends: The campaign begins. Every minister who has a loyal heart in his breast ought to be the first voice in his parish to speak for the fall elections.
Every Republican lawyer ought straightway to make an unanswerable brief for at least one good argument with the people before the day of decision. Every public spirited citizen will now have sixty or ninety days wherein he may grandly serve his country by adding his voice to the thunder roll of rebuke that is to rattle the window panes of the White House. Circulate tracts, newspapers, documents and speeches. Wherever you read a good word fully spoken, cut it out, and give it to some hesitating friend. But above all, if you can get Andrew Johnson to visit your neighborhood and make a speech, do it."

SOLDIERS.

The Democratic papers have tried to make you believe that Congress is to blame for your not promptly receiving your bounties. In other words it did not appropriate the money. Public sentiment has at last smothered the administration out. The fact is that the appropriations for this purpose were duly made by Congress. The Secretary of the treasury says "the money is ready" to meet the appropriation, and yet the bounties are not forthcoming.

The President well knows that the soldiers of the Republic do not sustain his policy. Setting aside a few "Bread and Butter" officers, virtually bought up, like cattle in the market, and also the deserters and the pretenders—the Soldiers in the whole Republic who sustain "my policy" would not make a decent sized regiment.
Johnson is bound to punish them; but he will find he is trying it on the wrong subjects. If those bounties are withheld until the 1st of November, woe to the man who dares thus disregard the necessities of those who fought and bled to save the nation from the grasp of treason.

CANDIDATES.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION is next Thursday. Ypsilanti will present one candidate, and there is no doubt of his nomination—for Register.

We learn that Augusta will present Mr. T. Deuel for Clerk. Augusta has always been modest in her claim. Mr.
Deuel is a good man and will make a first class clerk and we shall hope to see him nominated. He will no doubt be strongly backed up by this part of the county.

Mr. T. D. Lane, of Salem, is spoken of for Senator. A capital nomination.

CURRENT EVENTS.

Unprecedented floods, east and west, north and south. The country is all afloat. In Ohio and Indiana the Railroads are drowned out. A bad time for the Soldiers' Convention at Pittsburg; and yet large numbers were in attendance and great enthusiasm manifested. —Gen. Custer is assigned a command in Texas. Wendell Phillips peremptorily declines a nomination for Congress. —The N. Y. Times declares in favor of the Constitutional amendment. —Stephens, the Fenian Head Centre, declares in a speech his intention to go to Ireland this year. —The President is backing down on the constitutional amendment.
—The correspondent of the N. Y. Herald writes that the President and Cabinet are in a great state in reference to the inevitable defeat in the coming elections. Gen. Grant, Secretaries McCullough and Stanton advise him by all means to exhort the southern States to accept the amendment. All parties begin to see that these States can never come in until they do! —Gold, 145.

ENCOUNTERS.—This is one of the many we are receiving. Hon. Ira May-hew, in the postscript to a business letter, says:

"Your 'Maine' editorial has the right ring to it. The more such the better."

The proposition to increase the salaries of members of Congress in the Senate was voted for by nine out of eleven Democrats present, and in the House by 16 out of the 23 Democrats present, and voting. In the Senate 14 Republicans voted yea, and 11 nay, and in the House 35 Republicans voted yea and 43 nay.

A REVIEW OF THE ADDRESS OF THE JOHNSON PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION.

BY HON. T. D. LANE.

Salem, Sept. 14, 1866.

EDITOR COMMERCIAL.

The Address to the American people put forth by the Philadelphia Johnson Convention, virtually concede all that is claimed by that portion of the people, in whose record, the historian will never find the taint of treason, during the bloody drama of the rebellion. It says "Our Government has passed the vicissitudes and the perils of civil war —a war which, though mainly sectional in its character, has nevertheless decided political differences, that from the very beginning of the Government, had threatened the unity of our national existence, and has left its impress deep and ineffaceable upon all the interests the sentiments and the destiny of the Republic." These sweeping declarations are as comprehensive in their full scope, and so forcible in their application to the present times, and the real condition of the country, that the unbiased reader would never suspect them to have emanated from a body of men who believe that the "Constitution as it is and the Government as it was" are the only sure guarantees of future prosperity. A great change, so radical in its nature, as to leave its indelible impress upon all the interests the sentiments and the destiny of the Republic, must necessarily demand a corresponding change in the structure of the Government.

It requires no profound course of reasoning to establish the fact, that Organic and Statute laws adapted to the condition of the bondsman the serf and the slave, would not be at all, applicable to a society where all men are free. We have an illustration of this truth in the "political differences" that from the very beginning of the Government had threatened the unity of our national existence. Nor does the adoption of a single amendment to the Constitution simply abolishing the forms of slavery perfectly adjust the institutions of the country to this "ineffaceable impress on all the interests the sentiments and destiny of the Republic." If there were no moral and legal binding force in the obligation of the Constitution, requiring Congress to "guarantee to every State in the Union a republican form of government," or in the condition of the weak and helpless freedmen, and the loyal white man of the South, still justice to the loyal North requires that they should have some permanent assurance, that the complicated intrigues of the unscrupulous politician shall never force upon them additional taxes, in order to pension the soldiers the widows and the orphans of treason, or to pay the Confederate debt. Neither is it just that two hundred thousand traitors should come out of rebellion that has cost the nation so much precious blood and treasure, so much sacrifice suffering and sorrow, and entailed upon the people such a burdensome debt, with the additional political strength that the Constitution in its present form secures to them. The abolition of slavery, in nullifying the three-fifths clause, gives to the South twelve additional Congressmen thus largely increasing their influence in the national Councils and Electoral College, and really securing to them one great object of the rebellion, which was to gain political strength. There is another question, of weighty consideration, involved in the issues between the President and his convention, and the people.

In every form of government there are certain duties that the citizen owes the government. In Democracies and Republics, and all governments founded on just principles, there are certain duties that the government owes the citizen, the humblest as well as the highest, among these is protection in the employment of the national and "inalienable rights." When the peace of society or the security of individuals has been interrupted by the perpe-tration of crime, justice and the ends of law demand the arrest, and punishment of the offender. Thus bad persons, disturbers of the public peace may be put under bonds or they may be imprisoned, and in most countries, as the crime becomes more malignant, involving deeper moral turpitude, the offender forfeits his life. The certainty that these just attributes of law will be enforced, impresses a deeper sense of security in any well regulated community, than the severity of the sword of justice alone can possibly do. Hence the individual who attempts to screen the criminal from the grasp of the law, or to exonerate him from guilt becomes particeps criminis, and is amenable before the law.

By the uniform practice of nations and the moral judgement of civilized man, treason holds the front in the ranks of crime, because it strikes at the life of the nation and leaves no security for individuals. The Philadelphia Convention, the logical corollary of my policy, demands not that "treason shall be made odious and traitors punished" but that treason shall be made honorable and traitors rewarded not only by executive patronage but with seats in Congress.

When we consider the enormity of the crime—men deserting positions of honor and trust under a government that had raised them from oblivion, and with the oath of office burning on their lips perjure their souls, by trying to destroy the very instrument they had sworn to defend, it cannot be justly said of Congress that they have acted in a spirit of retaliation and revenge. Every traitor has forfeited his life, and as well might the criminal at the bar demand the right to sit on the jury that tries him, as for these men to demand seats in Congress, to legislate, not only for the general interests of the country, but to decide whether they are guilty of treason, or have only been making patriotic demonstrations to test the strength of the Government, and win the respect of other nations.

But it may be said that this reasoning is only applicable to individuals, and not to States in this Union. A few quotations from the address will show conclusively that those States as municipalities are not in the Union but striving to get in. And in this lies the whole controversy. In the first place, let us ascertain what constitutes a State. Evidently it is not territory, nor men, women and children; but it is an organized community or communities, exercising governmental functions and endowed with certain sovereign powers. The address says in reference to the condition of these former States, "It would seem to be both natural and inevitable, that in States and sections so recently swept by the whirlwind of war, where all the ordinary methods of organized industry have been broken up and the bonds and influences that guarantee social order have been destroyed, and where thousands and tens of thousands of turbulent spirits have been suddenly loosed from the discipline of war and thrown without resources or restraint upon a disorganized and chaotic society," &c.— What a distressing picture of the condition of the south; and yet it is too true. Society is in a "disorganized and chaotic" state, wanting in all the elements of good government. One more quotation will suffice: In the zeal to impress the public mind that the South has been sufficiently humiliated and punished for their sad mistake, (for crime they will hardly admit it to be), they concede all that the most rabid "radical" has ever claimed. They say:
"In the death of friends and relatives, the dispersion of families the disapruption of social systems and social ties, the overthrow of governments, of law and order * * * —the States and people which engaged in the war against the Government of the United States have suffered ten fold more than these who remained in allegiance to the Constitution and laws." Here is a clear and emphatic admission, not only that their State governments and law and order had been destroyed, but that the people of the rebellious States had become aliens to this Government by breaking their allegiance. When such broad premises are conceded by those who call themselves Conservatives, it is hard to understand the force of their logic when they claim that the measures adopted by Congress are revolutionary in their character. If society is disorganized and chaotic—if Government and law and order have been destroyed, and the rebel States have broken their allegiance to the Government of the United States, it would seem natural and indispensable that Congress, being clothed by the Constitution with the "Supreme" power of legislation, should adopt some plan by which government and law and order should be restored. This they have done. And no more.

ADVERTISING AGENCIES.

An eastern advertising agency sends a bogus "ad" to the Ann Arbor Courier.
The same "ad" was sent to us. The agency taking it for granted that because our paper was not published at the County seat, but wrongfully confined in a little bye town, that we could advertise for less than the Courier. The Courier thus responds:

"Messrs. — & Co.:—

Yours of the 11th, containing an 'ad' headed 'Wonderful but True!' was duly received. In answer we say: We fully appreciate your judgment in considering the Courier and Ypsilanti a 'better advertising medium than the majority of country newspapers' and we'd also say that the reason why it is so because we refuse to insert any of that class of humbugs of which the 'wonderful one you send us is a fair sample.
* * *

We give our answer to the above agency:

"Messrs. — & Co.:—

We have not inserted your advertisement. * * * 1st, we are opposed to such kind of advertising and intend to shut it out of the Commercial.
2d, we notice from your letter to the Courier, which is published in its last issue, that you offer them nearly one-fourth more than you do the Commercial. The Courier is also a local paper, and published in a city which endures, (don't support) three other local papers.
Now we would be willing to compare notes, and if the circulation of the Commercial does not equal or exceed that of the Courier, we will give in printing to the Republican County Committee, $25.00 to aid in defeating that unmitigated scoundrel and traitor, Andrew Johnson. Our paper has the largest local advertising in Washtenaw County, and unsurpassed by any country paper in the State. We are too full and overflowing to accept of whatever little dribbles foreign agencies may offer. Yours &c."

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

POWELL & CO.'S CONSTITUTIONAL A-MENDMENT PICTURE.

We have been shown a copy of this admirable photograph and do not hesitate to pronounce it one of the finest group pictures ever published. It consists of 159 separate pictures arranged upon one card, in concentric circles, having Lincoln at the base, Hamilton at the top and speaker Calhoun in the center. Its historical interest gives it chief value, which will increase with every year of our future. What would we give for such a picture of the signers of the declaration. The publisher has done a noble service in putting such beautiful form the likenesses of those noble men who voted to wipe out the great blot upon the fame of our country.

The picture in its present form is within the reach of all. The cost of them taken on separate cards would be from $20 to $30.

The State Agricultural Museum.

At a meeting of inhabitants of Ypsilanti and vicinity held Friday Evening Sept. 14th at Hewitt Hall, called for the purpose of taking proper measures in connection with the State Agricultural Society and State Board of Education, to raise means to complete the Agricultural Museum building in this city—Prof. J. F. Cary was elected Chairman and Edwin F. Uhl, Secretary. After remarks made by several persons as to the importance of the movement and the necessity for immediate action, the following resolution was adopted: Resolved, That we will raise the sum of $1,250 to aid in finishing the Agricultural Museum building in this city.

E. L. Quirk moved that a committee of four from this city be appointed to superintend the raising of the amount named, and that John Gilbert be chairman of such committee. Carried.

John Gilbert, D. L. Quirk, Chauncey Joslin, and R. W. Hemphill were appointed.

The following, introduced by John Gilbert, was adopted:

WHEREAS, We, the citizens of Ypsilanti and its immediate vicinity have already given the sum of $1,500 towards erecting the said Agricultural Museum building, and are now called upon for an additional sum of $1,250 to ensure its completion; and whereas, it is the opinion of this meeting, of as much, if not more importance to the surrounding agricultural districts to have the headquarters of the Michigan State Agricultural Society permanently located within their reach as it is to this city, therefore

Resolved, That the Chair appoint two prominent agriculturists in each of the towns hereinafter named, and respectfully request their co-operation in raising the sum required for the completion of said building.

The committee appointed is as follows: Plymouth—Wm. Taft, John Allen. Canton—H. O. Hanford, Samuel Lyndon. Superior—L. L. Kimmel, C. O. Parnell. Van Buren—Robert Clark, C. L. Barlow. Pittsfield—Alfred Crittenden, S. Wood. Ypsilanti—E. D. Lay, Geo. Jarvis. York—J. M. Kelsey, Peter Cook.

C. Joslin moved that the committee be authorized to pay the necessary expense of securing and collecting the subscription. Carried.

On motion it was resolved that the name of each person subscribing and the amount, when paid, be published in the city papers, and that the proceedings of this meeting be published in the same.

Meeting adjourned sine die.

Artistic.
On entering the Post Office, our eyes were attracted by some large solar photographs in India ink and water colors. One in particular attracted our attention; that of a young lady in Persian costume, beautifully executed in water colors. We learned that they were executed by J. H. Parsons, proprietor of "Parsons' Art Place, over the Post Office. Feeling inclined to see what our enterprising artist, is doing we called up in his gallery and studio, and found ourselves among pictures of all descriptions. Ambrotypes, carte de visites photographs, cabinet and life size solar photographs, colored and in India ink, Pastels and crayon paintings, beautiful specimens of penmanship and pen drawing, requiring months of labor, and showing the originality of design and power of execution possessed by Mr. Parsons. Also by him some good portrait and landscape paintings in oil. We examined the new style of picture called opalotypes. They are taken on opal glass, and nothing can transcend their beauty. The high lights are of pure opal, and the shadows clear and distinct. Those who have not seen them have yet to see the beauty of pictures. They are just the thing for a gift, and we bespeak for Mr. Parsons lively work through the holidays. We are thankful that we have a live artist here, and one who will keep pace with the progress of science and art. Mr. Parsons has refitted his suit of rooms and is prepared to do all kinds of picture work in the best style at short notice. We shall call again.

Health Reformer.
We are in receipt of a fair looking monthly published at the Western Health Reform Institute, Battle Creek. H. S. Lay, M. D. Editor. $1 a year, invariably in advance. The Reformer seems to be edited with ability and we trust will make its mark. So far as reform in mode of living is concerned, it may as well understand that it has a wicked and perverse generation to deal with.

Postponed.
The concert advertised to be given at the Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, the 25th inst., by Messrs. Pixley and Grannis, was in consequence of the very stormy night postponed until some time in November. Parties who have purchased tickets may retain them for the proposed concert, or they may be refunded by calling on Mr. Sigel, at his harness shop, south of Kings' corner.

Ann Arbor News.

A person by the name of Began, a desperate character being sentenced for assault upon Wm. F. Roth Esq. to imprisonment in the Detroit Work House for 90 days, the officer N. H. Pierce attempted to iron him, when Began brandished a knife in a defiant manner and declared he would not be ironed, nor would he accompany the officer. Mr. Pierce drew a revolver and discharged the contents of one barrel into his forehead, which brought him to the floor and another into his neck. He was then taken to Detroit. Began invaded Squire Roth's domestic ties, and is a dangerous character.

Dr. O'Leary.

His advertisement was doubtless noticed by our readers in last week's issue and also in this. We were in Detroit Thursday and heard his lectures highly spoken of. He is to lecture in Hewitt Hall next Tuesday evening.

P. May, Dentist.

From Rochester, N. Y., may be found till further notice, at the residence of S. G. Rowley Ypsilanti. All persons wishing Good Sets of Artificial Teeth, at reasonable prices, will do well to call as early as possible.

Our readers will take notice that Dr. Mattocks the celebrated Analytical Physician formerly from New York, now located in Cleveland Ohio, is now stopping a few weeks with Mr. John M. Sweet, three miles West of Ypsilanti, where he can be consulted FREE. Dr. Mattocks has had a long experience in treating Chronic Diseases and is highly recommended by those who have employed him and those who have tried other means and failed, will do well to adopt his treatment.

P. S.—All patients will be furnished with medicines to continue their treatment, by Express. By particular request Dr. M. appoints one day next week, Saturday, October 6th, at the Follett House, to receive all who wish to call.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

ESPECIALLY TO THE SICK.

DR. E. JOLLIE MATTOCKS, late of New York. For thirty years Dr. Mattocks has devoted his whole attention to the cure of chronic diseases of every name and nature, and has effected remarkable cures in lingering diseases. True medical science is our foundation; our practice differs from all others; we know the diseases and also the remedy. No experimenting, no deception, no humbug. Do not give poisons; use entirely vegetable medicines, good to take, act mild with nature. We give a candid opinion, and effect permanent cures. We ask a trial before abandoning hopes. We claim to cure all curable cases of Chronic Diseases of the head, throat, lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Cancer and all impurities of the blood, and all diseases peculiar to Females. The best of references will be given as regards capabilities and success as a Physician, as well as moral character as a Christian gentleman. No case undertaken unless there is a hope of doing them them good. All the sick are earnestly invited to call. Ypsilanti, Sept. 15th, 1866. 133-136

ALBION COMMERCIAL COLLEGE.—The success of this popular institution is entirely attributable to its substantial merit. Although modest in pretensions, it is unsurpassed in excellence. A recent board of visitors properly say in their report: "It is much better than most that claim perfection." Hon. IRA MAYHEW, President, author of "Mayhew's Practical Book-keeping," gives regular courses of lectures on which all students attend. The Principals of Departments are also accomplished and successful instructors. Persons desirous of obtaining a good business education on here enjoy rare privileges at moderate cost. Pamphlet circulars sent on application. 133-136

REASONS WHY

The AMERICAN WATCH, made at Waltham, Mass. is the best—

It is made on the best principle. Its frame is composed of solid plates. No jar can interfere with the harmony of its working and no sudden shock can damage its machinery. Every piece is made and finished by machinery (itself famous for its novelty, as well as for its effectiveness) and is therefore properly made.

At the beginning of our enterprise, more than ten years ago, it was our first object to make a thoroughly good low-priced watch for the million, to take the place of these foreign impositions—the refuse of foreign factories—which are entirely unsaleable at home and perfectly worthless everywhere.

How well we have accomplished this may be understood from the fact, that after many years of public trial, we now make more than half of all the watches sold in the United States, and that no others have given such universal satisfaction. While this department of our business is continued with increased facilities for perfect work, we are at present engaged in the manufacture of watches of the very highest grade known to chronometry, unequalled by anything hitherto made by ourselves, and unsurpassed by anything made in the world. For this purpose we have the amplest facilities. We have erected an addition to our main buildings expressly for this branch of our business, and have filled it with the best workmen in our service. New machines and appliances have been constructed, which perform their work with consummate delicacy and exactness. The choicest and most approved materials only are used, and we do so without fear of contradiction that for the same money our product is incomparably superior to all our watches, of whatever grade, are fully warranted and have a warranty is good at all times against us or agents in all parts of the world.

Caution.—The public are cautioned to buy only of respectable dealers. All persons selling counterfeit watches will be prosecuted. ROBBINS & APPLETON, agents for the American watch company, 182 Broadway, N. Y.

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.

Whooping-Cough Cured.—T. Alcock & Co.—Gentlemen: Please send me another six dozen of your Porous Plasters. They are a great demand here for Whooping-cough. They act like a charm. I could have sold two dozen this week if I had had them. Send as soon as possible, and oblige, JOHN L. WILLIAMS.

Asthma Cured.—Mr. Wm. May, of 245 Spring Street, New York, writes, Jan. 1, 1866: I have been afflicted with asthma for upwards of ten years, receiving no benefit from medical men. I was advised by a young friend to try one of Alcock's Porous Plasters. I said, I had tried several kinds of plasters without any benefit, and supposed they were all alike. My friend gave me one of Alcock's, and urged me to use it. I did so, and have now worn them steadily for nine months, and find myself better than I have been for many years. Agency, Branderth House, New York. Sold by Druggists.

CINCINNATI--A very enthusiastic reception--continuing and loud cheers for Grant, with the President acknowledged. A unsophisticated postmaster who joined us here, wanted to know why the people cheered for Grant instead of the President, to which his highness answered, that they were considering they knew his modesty, and wanted to spare his blushes. Another man who was also unsophisticated, asked him, confidently, if he didn't think there was a sameness in his speeches, and that if he didn't think he'd do better to give a greater variety. His highness asked him how there could be more variety. "At Cincinnati," said he, "I observed the following order:

1. I swung around the circle.
2. I asked who wuz the Savior of I wuz Joodis Iskarlot?
3. I left the Constitution, the 36 States, and the flag with 36 stars onto it in their hands.

Now at Columbus I feel vary it thusly:

1. Conetitooshin, flag and stars.
2. The Joodis Iskarlot bizzis.
3. Swinging round the circle.
4. At Stooebville, agin, ez follows:

1. Joodis Iskarlot.
2. Swinging around the circle.
3. Conetitooshin, flag and stars.

And so on. It is susceptible of many changes. I thought that when I write that speech, and decided to put into sections on purpose.

JOHNSTOWN, PA.--A platform fell down, onto which wuz 400 voters, killin a dozen or em. His Excellency felt relieved when heerin uv the accident, at bein' assured that their wuzn't wuv uv his supporters on the platform.

He considered it a spehful Providence. The conductor overheard the remark and answered that if eny uv his supporters wuz killed in that seeshkun they'd hev to import wuv for that purpose.

LEFFIN, PA.--An enthusiastic indivijle who wants the Post Office at this place very much, fell on the President's neck and wuz bawlin him ez the "Preserver of the Union." The President thanked him for his spontaneous tribute, and left in his hands the Constitution, the flag and the appointment he desired.

BALTIMORE--There wuz a spontaneous reception here, which wuz gratifying to us. The procession was immense and the mottoes expressive. One division wuz headed by the identical indivijle who fired the first shot at the Massachusetts men in 1861. He is a ardent supporter of President Johnson's policy. One flag wuz one captured from a Infantry regiment at the first Bull Run at which the President wuz. "Things is becomin normal," said he, "when the people will stand that. Wat lore!--wat unity. The flags uv both seeshkun wuz lacyly borne by foes, now minglin in the same procession, and all uv em cheerin ME."

At last we arrived at Washington, havin swung entirely around the circle and found traitors North and South. The demonstration to greet the President on his arrival, was immense. The clerks of the Departments wuz out, at least ten ez wuzn't will they bin, ez their names wuz ordered out, and together it wuz the most spontaneous exhibition I ever witness. The Mayor made a speech.

They President replied: K if he wuz Joodis Iskarlot who wuz the Savior--told him he had swung around the entire circle and had found traitors on all sides uv it, though since he left Cleveland, Chicago and Indianapolis, he wuz satisfied there wuz the belt uv them in the North, but there is this ez it may, he left the Constitution and the thirty-six States, and the flag with 36 stars onto it in their hands. He had been Alderman in his native village, and Congressman, and United States Senator, and Vice-President, and President, which latter circumstance he considered forlorn, but wuz after all, an Humble Indivijle. He didn't feel his roots much and wuz doin his duty agin traitors north ez well ez agin his misguided friends south.

And so ended the Presidential ex-cession. PETROLEUM V. NASBY, PM, and likewise Chaplin to the expedition.

P. S.--I forgot to mention, that at Chicago we laid the corner stone uv a monument to Douglas. The occurrence had entirely slipped my memory.

THE NEW YORK HERALD seems to be as much in earnest as is possible for that versatile paper to be, in convincing the supporters of the President's policy there is no hope for them, and that Congress and its reconstruction policy will prevail. It says:

"We hold that the popular groundswell which has thus carried the Maine election by a majority which dwarfs the majorities of Abraham Lincoln, is a popular movement which, from all the signs of a popular movement which, from all the signs of the times, will sweep across the continent and carry the Constitutional Amendment of the present Congress and decide the complexion of the next Congress against the President's policy." The super-sensible New York organ of Mr. Seward, in threatening the alternative of civil war against Congress, is only adding combustibles to a burning fire, and the shrewd President is secured from such reckless partisanship and treacherous friendships, the better it will be for him and his official reputation. This broad hint of a violent dissolution of the government emanates, we believe, from the Secretary of State; for, if we mistake not, the same hint was first thrown out by his special home organ at Auburn some months ago.

In another article the same paper says:

"We regard the contest between the President and Congress as virtually decided by Maine. We bow to the judgment of the people of the mighty North, and we trust that the President will shape his course accordingly."
